Rosewood and brass.

Stamped.

The rosewood 'Captain's bar' produced by Dyrlund in the 1960s is a Danish mid-century design classic. Notably, the two functional flaps fold in, and the entire cabinet also folds in on itself for ultimate space-saving. Elegant brass handles perfect the sleek aesthetic.

The surface is protected by black linoleum tops, making the piece ideally suitable for preparing drinks. Three pull out drawers for storing utensils and two stainless steel trays for ice or lemon complete this bar cabinet.
