Brazilian rosewood, black Formica.

Stamped.

With its Brazilian rosewood body, two surfaces, and four small wheels, this elegant mid-century piece is both tasteful and functional. The trolley's black Formica surface is practical and allows for glasses and bottles to be placed on top without leaving marks or stains.

This particular trolley belongs to a dining room suite that Erik Wørts designed on commission for a private Danish home in the 1950s. Erik Wørts was a prolific Danish furniture designer and cabinet maker.
